

Kostas Poulos

Monsters of Greek Mythology

Illustrated by Sofia Papadopoulou

METACHMIO

Sphinx

My name is Sphinx and I am a truly stunning creature. I cannot get enough of admiring myself in the mirror. I have everything you humans could possibly wish for, but you'll never, ever get. I have the body of a lion, the wings of an eagle, and the tail of a snake. My eyes are large and beautiful and my long hair cascades down my shoulders.

We, the monsters of Greek mythology, have decided to make our voices heard. To finally put an end to all the lies and slander. The time has come for our truth to be heard: who we are, what we do, what we want.

We are not like you humans. We are different. Very different indeed. But we are definitely not monsters!

The Riddle of the Sphinx

The Song of the Sirens

Under the Shadow of the Centaurs

The Minotaur and the Labyrinth

The Wrath of Enceladus

You can find relevant educational material and games
based on Monsters of Greek Mythology on our site
[www.metaixmio.gr/
play-with-the-myth](http://www.metaixmio.gr/play-with-the-myth)

ISBN:978-618-03-1921-7

9 786180 319217

ΒΟΗΘ. ΚΩΔ. ΜΗΧ/ΣΗΣ 81921